

Frontiers

Events

DAY ONE: Monday April 2nd

Click here for Day Two: Tuesday April 3rd

8:30 AM - 5:00 PM Frontiers Symposium talks by each of our guest speakers

Due to seating capacity, registration to attend the seminars is closed

 Talks will be live-streamed the day of the event HERE

8:30 AM - 8:50 AM Registration (coffee and snacks)

8:50 AM - 8:55 AM Welcome: President Skorton

8:55 AM - 9:00 AM Opening Remarks: Robert Raguso

9:00 AM - 9:40 AM Sharon Long: "Nitrogen-fixing root nodules: how two organisms work together to build a complex structure"

9:45 AM - 10:25 AM Jeanne Altmann: "Life on the wild side: exploring how ecological and social environments get under the skin in a nonhuman primate population"

10:30 AM - 10:50 AM Coffee Break

10:50 AM - 11:30 AM Nicole Dubilier: "From deep sea hydrothermal vents to coral reef sediments: the remarkable diversity of symbioses between chemosynthetic bacteria and marine invertebrates"

11:35 AM - 12:15 PM Mary-Claire King: "Anna Karenina and the genetics of common complex human disease"

12:30 PM - 1:30 PM Lunch, Statler Hotel

1:45 PM - 2:25 PM Pam Ronald: "The rice XA21 receptor recognizes a conserved bacterial signaling molecule"

2:30 PM - 3:10 PM Mary Power: "Floods, droughts, and river food webs: algal-mediated"

- connections of rivers, oceans, and uplands”
- 3:15 PM - 3:35 PM Coffee Break, Biotech Lobby
- 3:35 PM - 4:15 PM May Berenbaum: “Postcards from the edge - of a leaf: lessons learned from plant-insect interactions”
- 4:20 PM - 5:00 PM Linda Buck: “Unravelling smell”